INTERIOR DESIGN - UNDER 5,000 SF

After her clients purchased two additional units above their quintessential New York City apartment, a three-year reconfiguration and expansion ensued to transform a pied-à-terre into a spacious family home with multilevel views of Central Park. A collaboration between Tammy Connor Design, John Murray Architects and DiSalvo Contracting, the resulting architecture and interiors (a labor of love and architectural achievement) are a lesson in juxtaposition; a study in balancing contrasting elements and styles that harmoniously joins the city with nature through perfect scale and proportion.
